What is the best team building exercises for businesses?

Question by LaceDaBeat: What is the best team building exercises for businesses?

We have a smaller company, about 70 employees strong. The people who have been here from the beginning have formed a click or family almost. The new people are expected overtime, but I feel as if they are being almost too exclusive at first. We will be doing a company picnic and would like to incorporate some team building exercises to loosen everyone up and allow them to get to know each other better. Are there any suggestions? Any exercises that work better than others? I would really appreciate it!
