V walk

The V Walk is a team building exercise Cheap Cialis where two individuals link to each other across a gap and the object is to be able to walk the separated steel lines together from one end to the next. The gap between the two lines gets wider and wider as the two individuals progress through the course. The widest gap between the two wires is 8 ft. haha Sorry, Steven.. I stole your description. ... phileo retreat team-building exercise
