

File Created by Blogging Rebirth WP Plugin

By the CEO, for CEOs

Did you look closely at the byline on our post from yesterday arguing that employees are absolutely critical to achieving strong business results? It's none other than our President, Gaye van den Hombergh.

You can read Gaye's bio here on our website. She assumed leadership of Winning Workplaces last June, and in addition to the work she's been doing since to chart our strategic course and ensure excellent service, she recently, and graciously, agreed to join me as a writer on our blogs.

You can access Gaye's blog, which is titled "The Payoff of Progressive People Practices," here. You'll want to bookmark it so you can stay current on her latest thoughts and tips on the payoff of employee engagement from a leader's perspective.

View full post on Winning Workplaces

You can also find this article published on By the CEO, for CEOs, and on the tag pages CEOs.