Obama May Shoot Last Remaining Arrow

At this point, the president may have little to lose Liz Peek | 08/06/2010 10:35 am What can the White House do? Midterm elections are approaching, and the country's mood is decidedly grumpy. High unemployment continues to be the bane of the Obama administration; today's tepid jobs report confirms that despite massive government spending, private sector hiring is still weak. The president has ...
